INTRODUCTION

On the next pages you can find an overview of questionnaires that are available in QuestManager.

All questionnaires are the most recent version (known to us). If you are aware of a more recent version of a questionnaire, please let us know.

The single source of documentation for questionnaires in the central library is the documentation material provided by the author/publisher. Licensed questionnaires in the central library have been tested and approved by the publisher.

Questionnaires that are delivered to a customer environment are only edited (free of charge) when errors are found when comparing the digitized questionnaire to the corresponding documentation.

This overview is updated on a regular basis. For questions regarding questionnaires, please contact the Support team via a Jira ticket.
